FLIRTING IN SKIRTSVILLE

To quote Tim Gunn of Project Runway fame, "A skirt that hits at mid-calf is irredeemably frumpy!" You may not love your tums, hips and thighs, but that's no reason to look dowdy. A full skirt that hits the knee says flirty not frumpy while still covering all those wobbly bits! Show off those gorgeous legs but add footless tights and ballet flats if you haven't had a chance to work on your tan.

TOP OF THE CROPS

Grab a little cropped cutie to cover up without killing your summer outfit. Summer means it's time to lighten up, so ditch bulky fabrics and give dark colours a break. These three jackets are easy care because when it's hot, they will probably spend most of their time tossed on a sofa or thrown into a bag, but when needed will be crease-free and won't let you down when the sun disappears over the horizon.

HYDRATION HEAVEN

These are a saving grace during summer for so many reasons – keep one on you at all times! They are fantastic for dehydrated skin when travelling on planes, cooling down parched, hot skin at the beach, and setting your make-up so that it lasts and looks fresh all day.
